

ML's Greenery in Motion 2017 Custom Growing List

About this year's plant list –it highlights the herbs and vegetables. I love flower gardens (for so many reasons!!) and will always encourage people to add color and texture to their outdoor living spaces, but...it's the veggies - the greens, the tomatoes that are hot right now. So, this year's mailer is focused on herbs, greens, and vegetables, with selected flowers at the end. I'm growing the annuals and perennials that I'll be using in on-site gardens so if you're looking for something just let me know. The list is alphabetical. I'll also have plants for sale at the Westminster Farmers' Market every Friday afternoon, May – August.

You may also be wondering about all of the varieties of any one kind of vegetable... Each variety has its own charm of flavor and texture – and that makes the selection really personal. I can tell you that the most fascinating part of selling plants at the farmers' market is letting people try snips of the rosemary or basil for example and letting them pick the best flavor for them. No one believes that each basil variety has its own subtle punch of flavor...

So – let's start with the aforementioned basil...

Everyone knows the standard Italian basil – used to make pesto, caprese salads and outstanding tomato sauces but there are a lot of subtleties that you might be missing out on! There are different textures, flavors and sizes. Experiment a little and try a new one this year. This is one of the most popular plants we sell at the farmers' market and you're welcome to stop by and nibble a leaf or two to try them out 😊

VEPT	Eggplant Ping Tung Long	Popular Japanese eggplant variety growing up to 14" long. The fruit is slender with purplish-black color and a purple calyx	$2.95
VERB	Eggplant Rosa Bianca	Very meaty 4"-6" round fruit, mild flavor never bitter	$2.95
VERM	Eggplant Round Mauve	Round mauve eggplant, thin-skinned with white flesh, not bitter. Harvest tennis ball size.	$2.95
The Greens!!!!		These next four are the chards, kales, mustards and lettuces and are all part of the really fast developing “greens” mania. We’ve discovered over time that there are subtleties in these groups as well – and many will work very well as fillers in regular gardens – especially the kales and chards. You can’t beat the drama of their well grown leaves!
VGAR	Greens Arugula Runaway	Tastes deliciously tangy but is slightly less pungent than regular arugula .	$3.95
GCB	Greens Chard Bionda di Lyon	Pale green leaves, almost golden in color, and thick white midribs, truly excellent flavor - our personal favorite	$3.95

GLSB	Lettuce Salad Bowl	Classic loose leaf lettuce, been around for decades	$3.95

The varieties of Peppers and Tomatoes continues to expand. It's worth trying a new one now and again. To encourage you, this year peppers will be in 2.5" pots at $2.95 ea so you can try different varieties. As usual, tomatoes will be $4.95 for a 4" pot. The code...  peppers with heat  new varieties  favorites works for peppers, squashes and tomatoes.

First: the Peppers

Peter Picked a Peck of Pickled Peppers – and so can you! Here’s another range of varieties. Everyone knows about the classic bell peppers – available year round and used for stuffing etc. You’ll find them on the list to be sure – and many varieties to pick from. The same is true for the hot peppers – good selection although none of the brutally hot ones... What you’ll also see is a long list of “horn” peppers. We’ve discovered that, by and large, these have by far the best flavor for almost anything – including the classic stuffing, roasting, pickling (although we mix in a few hots). These are the ones that we grow for ourselves! Get adventurous and try a whole lot of different ones.  horn peppers

	Now the Woody plants	Small berried fruits are one of the most valuable additions you can make to your home landscape. When grown well, they have an outstanding return on healthy eating – high in antioxidants etc and even when grown not so well can offer fresh eating of delightful flavor nuggets. Blueberries, in particular, have an excellent nutrient profile and also make an excellent addition to the ornamental landscape – turning bright red in the fall. If you don't want to eat the fruit – all the neighborhood birds will help you out 😊
