

ML's Greenery in Motion 2020 Custom Growing List

What matters to you about growing veggies and flowers? That's the real question of course because that's where the energy comes from to make it happen. Your eyes and your taste buds can tell you so much about the living world – learn to use them!!

All of the plants on this list serve these goals. If you haven't tried a horn pepper yet then you really have to. That's where the real flavor is in the pepper world. Try the different color tomatoes. They really can't be described accurately. How about the summer squashes? Did you know that the Italians really care about FLAVOR in summer squashes and that they make for GREAT eating? Each chard or kale has a subtly different flavor – never mind the rosemary and the basil.

I've read and heard from you that you're considering expanding your garden this year, I quite understand the impulse. There is nothing like taking out zucchini pesto or roasted eggplant in January and February and brightening up a meal. As always, I've added annuals to the list because a pop of color goes a long way to adding cheer to a garden and is essential for supporting our local pollinators – the good guy bugs!

Enjoy poking through this list – all plants are inoculated with a complex mix of rhizosphere microbes at seeding or transplanting and all get a re-inoculation just before you pick them up. I'll also have the high energy mineral/fertilizer mix available again this year in 30 lb. buckets. Add it to the plant list if you want to pick one up with your plants. Italicized and bold prices are packs, upright prices are pots.
